CROATIAFEST WELCOMES CROATIAN DANCE ENSEMBLE FROM CHICAGO

CroatiaFest is pleased to welcome KUD Hrvatska Baština, a new Croatian dance and music ensemble from Chicago, to perform at this year's festival.

Although they are not affiliated with a particular Croatian church, they have members from all the parishes, St. Jerome, Sacred Heart, Blessed Aloysius Stepinac and the recently closed Holy Trinity Church. They are self-funded and host concerts, dances and dinners to help meet their expenses.

During the summer of 2018, KUD Hrvatska Baština toured Croatia and Hungary. With stops in Pečuh and Mohač,

In Croatia, they performed in Vukovar with HKUD Dunav, Dakovački Vezovi as part of the International Smotra Folklor, in Split as guests of KUD Jedinstvo and on the island of Pašman in Tkon.

KUD Hrvatska Baština performs in Chicago on a regular basis. They also have performed in Milwaukee, St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland, Los Angeles and New York as well as St. Thomas, Toronto and Mississauga, Canada.

CHAIRMAN'S CORNER

Dear Friends:

We Croatian Americans will once again come together on Saturday, October 5th and Sunday, October 6th during CroatiaFest 2019 to celebrate our heritage, enjoy each other's company, and salute our unity.

It took a millennium for Croatia to become a fully independent state and sovereign nation:

In 879, Pope John VIII granted Dalmatian Croatia papal recognition as a state under Duke Branimir. In 925, the Kingdom of Croatia was formed under Tomislav, the first Croatian ruler honored with the title "king" by the Papal chancellery.

In 1102, the Kingdom of Croatia – Regnum Croatiae, Hrvatsko kraljevstvo – entered into a union with the Kingdom of Hungary, ruled at the time by the Arpad dynasty. In 1526, facing the Ottoman incursion into Europe, Croatia aligned itself with the Habsburg Monarchy, retaining its own Parliament and a degree of political independence until 1918, when World War I brought the Habsburg Empire to its knees.

The twentieth century saw Croatia absorbed into a kingdom dominated by its Serbian neighbors; after World War II, Croatia became part of the Eastern Bloc under a communist government. On October 8th, 1991 – Croatia's Independence Day – Croatia broke all ties with SFRY (Yugoslavia). In January 1992, the United Nations granted Croatia diplomatic recognition.

Chairman's Corner

During the prolonged epoch under hegemony, the Croatian people sustained their customs and culture, priding themselves on their independent identity. The Croats also never lost their faith. Through sheer tenacity, the Croatian people were able to retain their identity for centuries –while never giving up on the idea of an independent state.

CroatiaFest continues to foster that sense of pride in our identity, our affinity and our cultural ties.

With your attendance on October 5th and 6th – and your generous financial support – CroatiaFest will be a weekend of culture, friendship and festivity. And once again, Croatian Ambassador Pjer Simunovic will join us to celebrate the occasion and help us recall: The flame that is Croatia will continue to burn.

RECAP: CROATIAFEST 2018

CroatiaFest 2018 was a wonderful celebration of the heart of Croatia brought to you here, in the heart of Seattle! All day the stage bustled with the colors, sounds and energy of ensembles and bands from around the United States and Canada. We welcomed new performing groups from Calgary, Alberta and Tamburaški Sastav Ponoć of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and enjoyed our returning band Sinovi of Chicago, Illinois. CroatiaFest was honored to welcome the Croatian Ambassador to the United States, from Washington, DC, Pjer Šimunović as our very special guest.

Marija Grgurević brought us live from Croatia: Antonia Ruskovic, artist and heritage curator of the Konavle region, which is the countryside, near Dubrovnik. Antonia has dedicated her life to preserving and cataloging the heritage of traditional embroidery from Konavle. She is the executive director of the cultural museum and author of a beautiful book that is now considered an encyclopedia of hundreds of years of Konavle embroidery. Antonia painstakingly has collected, created and cataloged patterns, instructions and descriptions. Marija interviewed Antonia from her studio and the recorded video is on the CroatiaFest Facebook page. Be sure to check it out if you missed this wonderful event!

This year we hosted a photo contest of pictures taken by members of our community. The winners were selected from many beautiful images of Croatia's sites and people in our photo gallery. Renowned Croatian-American photographer Milena Soree was featured, joining us as she shared her timeless images of Croatia, while visiting with the public. For the first time, the former art gallery space was transformed into a stunning museum, displaying treasures from Seattle Jr. Tamburizan collection, local families and artifacts collected by John A. Morovich.

Genealogist and family heritage tour guide Robert Jerin of the Facebook page "The Croatian Heritage and Genealogy," joined us for the first time and gave wonderful advice to people who are working on their family trees, trying to track down their family villages and learn more on how to trace their own heritage.

Our volunteer chefs and food vendors did not disappoint! Most notable was the demonstration by Chef John Vukas of the ancient traditional preparation of Dalmatian "peka", roasted meats and vegetables under its unique bell or dome over hot coals. On the John Sarich Memorial Cooking Stage, the Martinis Family prepared old-fashioned "bakalar" and the always popular Len-ka Dunatov demonstrated "vodenjaci" water raised cookies. Our CroatiaFest wine cellars showcased local and Californian Croatian-American vintners with folks enjoying a wonderful glass of wine, sampling treats from Big John's PFI while listening to the chords of tambura music and Klapa singing.

What truly brings our festival together is YOU! The heart and energy of the festival day is 100% the excitement and enthusiasm brought to the armory by all who donate and contribute, our team of selfless volunteers and each and every one of you! Your suggestions and input, the feedback we hear from you make each year bigger and better and for that we are tremendously grateful! Thank you for a wonderful CroatiaFest 2018 and we hope to see you on OCTOBER 6, at CroatiaFest 2019!

OUTSTANDING CROATIAN NOMINATIONS

Each year the CroatiaFest Board of Directors selects an outstanding person who is exemplary in sharing the culture and traditions with the broader community by awarding them the "Outstanding Croatian Award." Would you like to recognize someone who has contributed to preserving the rich traditions and culture of the Croatians? You can make your voice heard by submitting a nomination for this wonderful award. The winning awardee will be honored by the Croatian Ambassador and our own Croatian Honorary Consul, Dr. Frank Brozovich, at the October 2019 CroatiaFest event.

The criteria by which the deserving individual will be selected are:

1. A person from the Croatian community who has demonstrated leadership and commitment to preserving and sharing the rich and beautiful traditions and culture of Croatia with people in our region and around the world.
2. Someone who has worked with others over their lifetime to keep the Croatian heritage a living tradition.
3. A person who has created gathering places for Croatians to share their cultural traditions and who has educated the broader community about Croatia and its traditions.
4. One who has worked to ensure that the Croatian culture is visible and present in the fabric of all cultures.

To nominate go to the Croatia Fest website www.croatiafest.org and submit your nomination form via email to outstandingCroatianNomination@croatiafest.org

CROATIAN CONSULATE DAYS AT CROATIAFEST 2019

CroatiaFest 2019 is honored to partner with Consulate General of the Republic of Croatia in Los Angeles with his hosting of Croatian Consular Days at CroatiaFest this year, Sunday, October 6th at the Seattle Center Armory.

This is your only opportunity to schedule an appointment locally, rather than traveling to Los Angeles for Croatian government business.

Bring your applications, documents to have notarized, certify or renew your Croatian documents, passports, fingerprints, visas or citizenship in Seattle, rather than making the trip to Los Angeles. To prepare for your appointment, please check on the Consulate General's website to assure you bring all documentation and materials necessary for processing. www.us.mvvp.hr

This year, in addition to regular consular duties, there will be two seminars with question and answer time about Croatian property ownership issues and the recent Croatian Legislative decision to allow citizenship for 3rd generation Croatian-Americans (3rd generation means your great-grandparents were born in the old country). PLEASE NOTE! Croatian citizenship applications require an extensive amount of paperwork, gathered and prepared in advance. Review the website, contact the Consulate General's office as soon as possible and start putting documents together now in preparation for October.

To schedule your appointment or if you have questions, please contact the Los Angeles Consular Office, by phone or email. 310.477.1009 ext 4 and email: crocons.los-angeles@mvep.hr

We extend a heartfelt thank you Consulate General and the Consular Staff for this wonderful opportunity for our community!

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN TACOMA

SOUTH SOUND-TACOMA CROATIANS

ARE BUILDING AND ENGAGING

Founded in Old Tacoma in 1901 by immigrants from what is now Croatia, the Slavonian American Benevolent Society (SABS) membership has been busy building awareness in the community about themselves, reaching out with a communication campaign to members, making building improvements and making their mark as a historical building and organization in Tacoma-Pierce County. Members gather once a month for Croatian Language Classes and gather about every four months for cooking classes. Most recently a class on the art of making "cevapi" was held which concluded with a lovely meal sharing wine, of course, and good conversation. As a result of the work of members two major events have been presented most recently:

HERITAGE PANEL PROJECT

In 2017 SABS won a grant from the Pierce County Historic Preservation Fund to develop a set of six family profiles of the early membership of SABS, from its ca. 1901 roots. Five families submitted pictures and personal histories, which were developed into panel presentations to be displayed in the Sunset Room of the Slavonian Hall. This project enabled the membership to begin to establish a museum that would feature the historic family portrayals, memorabilia from members, photos and crafts. On November 2nd, 2018, a grand opening of the panel project was held, followed by a public viewing on November 3rd. The project was designed to launch a tradition of storytelling and presentation of all members and their long treks to America and ultimately to Tacoma. This event was yet another event that brought members together to pass on family and cultural history and most importantly, to share the pride that we feel as Croatians.

KONOBA

Croatian-Style Evening of Music, Dance, Food, Pastries, Wine!

"There are no Croatian restaurants in Tacoma, but for one day — and only one day — the Slavonian American Benevolent Society Hall in Old Town will become one." -- Sue Kidd, Restaurant Reviewer, The Tacoma News Tribune.

This event is open to the public and shares the traditions of the Croatian culture. "Konoba" is from the Latin "Canoba"

– a gathering place, sometimes a wine cellar, often attached to a house, where food, drink, music and hospitality are shared with friends. For two years running, hundreds of people from around the region have attended this event to revel in the music and good conversations that occur at each table. Musicians from around the Sound, including Seattle’s world famous “Sinovi”, play traditional music, often engaging attendees in song and dance as guests enjoy traditional Croatian foods, beverages and homemade heritage pastries.

This wonderful event not only presents a vibrant and fun culture to the region, it also builds bonds among members who want to continue to share their history and traditions with the community. Konoba 2019 is scheduled for August 25th
